PROJECT INTRODUCTION

In this Paper we introduce the ESCROW PROTOCOL (:ESCROW) a decentralized trust fund that releases investors contributions to the funded project upon the completion of Milestones.

Cryptos Kickstarter

Crypto Crowdfunding with controlled asset allocation.

“Keep control of your investment funds”

The Escrow Protocol is aiming to protect investors, while building trust in the ICO of upcoming projects. It is safe to assume that any project funded through the Escrow Protocol, has the best intentions to deliver a successful product in a timely manner.

Roadmap Milestones

The Start up project looking to raise funds, will upload their Roadmap Milestone Targes via the ESCROW Web-interface and allocates a required funding value to complete the various steps of their project development.

Invested funds are only released to the start-up company as promised milestones are successfully completed.

SECURED FUNDING -RUG-PULL PROOF-

Decentralized | Community Influence | Reputable

We provide a decentralized crowd funding platform, where investors remain in control of their funds until they see a successful development of the things that were promised. Money is released once results are delivered. The only risk lies in the initial funding round, where the first percentage is released, providing working capital to the funded project.

There is no need for any Start-Up to sit on gigantic sums of raised money for months or years while they are developing basic infrastructure of their project. Instead of the entire raised capital being received, it is released in pre-arranged sums.

User-friendly interface

Investors will be able to vote on the release of funds in voting power relative to their investment stake.

Investor Exclusive Chatroom

We see a need for investors to be able to communicate without being interfered by bots, fake users, shells and alike.

No empty promises allowed.

The project looking for funding will be able to set the Milestones and Timelines according to their actual capacity and realistic performance capacity, therefore setting a basis for making fulfillable promises.

RATING

While funds are held on the Escrow Protocol waiting to be released, they are automatically staked on the Escrow Lending Chain, creating new funds for investors, redeemed automatically to the specified wallet.

For example: If a start-up project is looking for 1,000,000 in funding and splits their project into 10 steps over the course of 10 months, they will be released 100,000 in their first stage, while 900,000 are staked and creating rewards for the investors. The exponential fund growth potential in this project is obvious.
